THE UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT TO PROTECT ITS $25,000 CLAIM AGAINST THE CITY—PAPERS WILL BE SERVED ON THE COUNCIL.

This morning Judge Ellsworth issued a mandate order compelling the City Council to transfer $20,564.02 from various funds to the General Fund of the city in order to pay the claim of A. W. Ormsby for $5.

The amount was originally due to Dr. Ormsby for the examination of an insane person, and was transferred by him to Ormsby.

The decision of the Court allows the payment of a great many other claims against the city which have been held back on account of there being no cash in the General Fund.

The decision, however, does not affect the claim of the Contra Costa Water Company. There is now in the City Treasury about $55,000. The Water Company's claim for $25,000 is being litigated in the courts.

The money will be held by the city until the suit is decided in court.

CONTRA COSTA GETS A NEW ORDER.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—The Contra Costa Water Company today got an amended order in the United States Circuit Court directing the City Council not to touch or transfer the sum of $25,000 now in the City Treasury.

The Water Company claims this sum is due for water furnished the city. The Council cannot touch the money until the case is decided in the courts.

AMERICANS ROUT ENEMY.

MANILA, Nov. 11.—Major W. L. Pitcher of the Eighth Regiment of Infantry, commanding the Mindoro expedition, reports that the garrison of Abra de Hog was attacked yesterday by a force of insurgent commandos led by Iloncos. The Filipinos apparently attempted to respect the Samar tactics, but the Americans, who were broadcasting, completely routed the insurgents, who left five men dead. One American was seriously wounded.

Captain Noyes of the Thirtieth Infantry, commanding a detachment of fifty men, captured a deserter named Richter of the Sixth Artillery wearing the uniform of an insurgent Lieutenant.

Major Pitcher says he recently captured three officers and a large part of an insurgent company, all fully armed. It is believed the insurgents recently received an illicit supply of munitions of war.

PROTEST TO PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, protested to the President today against the arrest of Santiago Iglesias, who was sent to Porto Rico by the American Federation to reorganize the workmen of the island. Mr. Iglesias was arrested, according to a cablegram received from him by Mr. Gompers, as he stepped ashore at San Juan. He was placed in jail. The nature of the charge against him is not known. President Roosevelt immediately sent an inquiry to Governor Hunt as to the cause of the arrest.

The President said it would be manifestly improper to tell what he would recommend in his message, but assured the members of the delegation that any suggestions they might make would receive due consideration. The delegation also invited the President to attend a banquet to be given in his honor during the winter by the association. The President expressed his appreciation of the invitation, but said he could not accept it at this time. The President has been tendered similar invitations from organizations in various cities, but has not seen his way clear to accept any of them.

ENGLAND IS SATISFIED.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—The Pall Mall Gazette this morning, referring to the speech made by Senator Lodge at Boston on Saturday last, says:

"It is believed, Mr. Lodge's speech reveals the mind of President Roosevelt, this country will have nothing to complain of. The isthmian business will be settled next year in a manner honorable and satisfactory to both countries, which means, as we presume, that America will get her own way in the matter. The Monroe doctrine is to be sternly upheld by a great navy, if need be. This is in the interests of peace. As the Monroe doctrine does not affect that part of the American continent which belongs to the British Empire, the announcement will cause no friction."

SIX DAYS THEIR LIMIT.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 11.—Old City Hall was crowded at 12:30 this morning to see the start in the six-day-go-as-you-please race for the championship. All the leading heel and toe men in the country are entered in the grind of 142 hours straightway, including George Tracy, champion of the United States, and George Cartwright, champion of England. The track is twenty laps to the mile and twenty-two starters sprinted off in rapid style when they got the word.

The score at 11 a. m. was:

Hegelman, 60 miles 9 laps; Cavanaugh, 60 miles, 7 laps; Fahey, 58 miles; Den 57 miles 6 laps; Cartwright, 56 miles, 10 laps; Shelton, 56 miles 4 laps; Barnes 49 miles 11 laps; Beaumont, 49 miles 10 laps; Noremac, 48 miles 2 laps; Day 48 miles 3 laps; West 47 miles 2 laps; Finney 45 miles 12 laps; Miller 44 miles 1 lap; Lesslen 43 miles 15 laps; Tracy, 43 miles; Geary 40 miles 5 laps; Barclay, 39 miles 11 laps; Burke, 35 miles 1 lap; Horan, 21 miles 3 laps; Wilson, 18 miles 12 laps; Golden, 6 miles 13 laps.

WINTERS IS NOT GUILTY

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 11.—The trial of J. Ross Winters was brought to an end this morning by a verdict of not guilty returned by the jury after nineteen minutes' deliberation. The acquitted man broke down when the verdict was announced and for the first time during the trial showed signs of feeling in the case.

LARGE FIRE IN SOUTH.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 11.—Fire today caused $5,000 damage to the plant of the Asphalt Paper Pipe Company in this city. The blaze started in the vat heating department and gained good headway before the department arrived. Two switch engines threw water on the blaze and prevented a conflagration, as the burning building was within forty yards of the storage tanks of the Union Oil Company.

OSCAR HARLAND FLED WITH THE GIRL AND SECRETED HER
IN A LODGING HOUSE—POLICE ARE CALLED TO THE RES-CUE AND PLACE THE LOVER IN JAIL—GIRL IS TAKEN HOME AND GUARDED.

Love's dream came to an abrupt termination, after a thrilling escapade last night. Senorita Eugenia Montejo, a pretty Spanish girl of 17, and her soldier sweetheart, Oscar Harland, a veteran of the Spanish-American war, are separated.

Harland is now languishing in a cell at the City Prison, and his child sweetheart is at her mother's home on the corner of Seventh and Market streets, and is guarded by her mother and aunt.

Nearly two years ago Harland met Miss Montejo, and despite the fact that he had just returned from a war that had been successfully waged against the proud race from which she sprang, love was mutual at first sight.

Whether Miss Montejo was fearful of letting her parents know she was in love with one of the conquerors of her race, or whether it was because love is blind, is not known, but anyway, the two lovers never breathed a word of their engagement to the girl's parents.

A few days ago the carefully guarded secret of the two lovers was discovered by the parents. They decided to end the attachment between the two by sending the girl to her grandmother, Senora Sanbrano, who resides in Coalinga. The grandmother was sent for, and with the assistance of the young lady's aunt, attempted to take the girl to Coalinga on last night's train. Miss Montejo was obstinate and tearful in turns, declaring she would never desert her sweetheart. A hack was called and the young lady taken to the Sixteenth street depot and placed in a passenger coach.

By some secret means the girl communicated with her lover, and informed him of what was transpiring. All went well with the plans of the aunt and grandmother until the train was in motion. The girl then opened the window of the car with the remark that she wished some air. No sooner was the window up than the young lady flung herself headlong through the window, landing on the ground, uninjured save for a good shaking up.

Her lover was there to meet her. He called a carriage and was rapidly driven to a house.

The young lady remained there behind locked doors, while her cavalier went to the front to reconnoiter for the enemy in the way of traitor relatives.

The mother, aunt, grandmother and father repaired to police headquarters, and there told the story of the girl's thrilling escape and flight with her lover.

After a search the girl was located and taken to the City Prison. She was closely followed by Harland, who loitered about the prison doorway racking his brain for some means of effecting the release of his sweetheart.

He was taken into custody by the Chief of Police, and may be charged with abduction, if not upon a greater charge.

The girl was released and was taken home to her mother. Both the principals in the affair announce their willingness to get married, but the aunt and the grandmother are emphatically opposed to it.

Miss Montejo says that unless her daughter foregoes the company of her lover until she becomes of age, she will have the girl placed in a convent.

The mother further states that Harland has the girl completely under his influence, and as long as he is permitted to see her, she will not obey her parents.

Mrs. Montejo said that she will give her consent to the marriage, when Harland proves that he can support a wife in fitting style.

ROOSEVELT'S HORSES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—President Roosevelt has not yet been able to find a team of horses to his liking. He has tried at least a dozen pairs, but all of these have had some defect. The hostler of the White House stable returned from a trip to Baltimore where he visited the horse market but found they had no suitable horses with long tails. The President is opposed to the practice of docking the tails of horses, and will not consider the purchase of bang-tailed animals, no matter what other qualifications they may have.

EMPEROR AND RAILROAD.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The complete correspondence between M. De Witte, the Russian minister of finance, and his imperial majesty, the Czar on the occasion of the opening of the trans-Siberian railroad, has been received by cable from M. De Witte, by M. Doroukowsky, financial agent of the Russian government at this capital. M. De Witte's cablegram follows:

"On the occasion of the opening of temporary traffic on the Chinese Eastern Railroad I have sent to his majesty, the Emperor, the following telegram:

"On the 16th of May, 1891, your imperial majesty personally laid the first link of the Great Siberian Railroad. Today the anniversary of the accession of your majesty to the throne, the track of the Chinese Eastern Railroad has been completed. With heart full of joy I dare to present to your Majesty my faithful and loyal congratulations on the occasion of that historic event."

By laying the rails for a distance of more than twenty-four hundred versts, (1,300 miles) from the trans-Belkal to Vladivostok and Port Arthur, the construction of our railroads in Manchuria, in a rough way, of course, has been completed. Scarcely four years have elapsed since the beginning of the work on this section and notwithstanding the extraordinary difficulties which have been encountered and the destruction of the greater part of the railroad last year, the temporary traffic can now be opened on all the lines. I hope that two years from now all the work of the trans-Siberian Railroad will be finished and regular traffic will be opened.

"His Majesty has designed to honor me with the following answer:

"I thank you sincerely for your joyful communication. I congratulate you on the completion within so short a time and amid extraordinary difficulties, of a railroad which constitutes one of the greatest undertakings of the entire world."

JUMPED TO SAVE LIVES.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—A gas cylinder of the Liberty Chemical Company exploded this afternoon, severely injuring Miss A. M. Grell, Miss Anna Grell, Miss Kate Drexel, Miss Stella Mack and Edward Weyandt. The girls were at work on the second floor and jumped to save their lives. Weyandt was the engineer and was badly hurt by the force of the explosion. The building was wrecked. Loss estimated at $50,000.

MURDERED IN HIS OFFICE

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 11.—Eugene Klein, timekeeper for the Standard Mine, was murdered in the company's office at Mace, Idaho, this morning by C. E. Shuff, miner, who was dissatisfied with the time check given to him Saturday. This morning Klein went to the Standard office with a rifle, drove out a bystander, shot Klein and fled toward Gem. The bullet struck Klein near the heart and he died a few moments later.

Shuff was at once pursued and was captured near Gem. He is now in the Wallace jail.

EX-POSTMASTER SAYS HE IS GUILTY.

FRESNO, Nov. 11.—J. E. Fleming, the ex-postmaster of Coulterville, pleaded guilty before United States District Judge Withorn to the embezzlement of $19,150 of public money, and was fined that much with six months' imprisonment in the county jail here.

Fleming's pecuniations amounted to $1,000 and over. A plea was made in his behalf that restitution had been made and that he has been in jail 18 months awaiting trial, delayed on two occasions by reason of the quarantine of the jail owing to small pox.

MAGISTRATE IS DEAD.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—The death is announced of Sir Franklin Lushington, chief police magistrate for London. He was born in 1845.

PRINCETON MAY NOW COME TO BERKELEY

U. C. BOYS WILL TRY TO
BALL TEAM TO THE PACIFIC COAST.

BERKELEY, Nov. 11.—At a meeting of the Associated Students of the University of California this afternoon the possibility of a game with the Princeton team was discussed, but no action was taken toward bringing the team West.

Much depends upon the decision of the football men, who will be tendered a banquet by the alumni tonight. It was decided, however, that should the team be brought here games will be played in San Francisco on Christmas day and at Los Angeles New Year's day.

After drill dismissal today of the cadets Captain Waite addressed the students and asked that all join in a huge rally to celebrate Saturday's victory.

NOYES ON THE STAND

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—Judge Noyes was again on the stand this morning in the contempt hearing before Commissioner Hancock. He went over the important events following his arrival at Nome and said that none of his acts were in contempt of the Circuit Court of Appeals. He strongly denied the testimony of Attorney W. T. Hume.

SHE TOOK HER LIFE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—After years of grieving over the death of her mother, Miss Lizzie Sonnenberg, a daughter of Samuel Sonnenberg, a wealthy mining man, slipped away from the members of the household last night and committed suicide by inhaling gas in the front drawing room of the mansion.

The deceased was fifty-five years of age. The fact that she was a victim of the most pronounced type of melancholia worried her relatives greatly, but did not suggest to them that she might take her own life.

NO OFFER TO WU.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Trustees of the Columbia University said today there was no truth in the story that Chinese Minister Wu would be offered the chair of Chinese language and literature and said the matter had not come before the Board of Trustees in any way.

Francis S. Fane, one of the board said it was not within the range of probability that the Chinese minister would accept, because in the first place he would have to expatriate himself, and, second, the salary of the professorship probably not more than $4,000 would hardly be acceptable to a man of Mr. Wu's station.

YALE IS BEHIND.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 11.—The new star in the constellation Persaeus, concerning which important discoveries are reported from the Lick Observatory, has not yet been observed by the Yale university astronomers. At the Yale observatory it was stated today that neither the nebula nor the parallax of the new star has been seen.

MUST PAY A HEAVY FINE.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Samuel C. Kanner and B. H. Lovess, charged with furnishing Civil Service examination questions to police candidates in advance, were fined $1,000 each by Judge Neely today. A new trial was granted David B. Welser, the other alleged conspirator.

HIS DEATH WAS ONLY A FAKE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 11.—Newell C. Rathburn, who was supposed to have died of morphine poisoning in Jeffersonville, Indiana, last week, was arrested here today. He was taken to the city hall and admitted that he was Rathburn, Chief of Detectives Sullivan says he is convinced that he was Rathburn.

TO PAY THE ALLEGED AMOUNT OF THEIR LOSS.—CASE
BEING HEARD IN COURT.

A legal battle that has long been brewing between certain land owners along Alameda Creek and the Spring Valley Water Company opened this morning in the Superior Court before Judge Greene. This suit virtually goes to the right of the water company to divert the waters of Alameda Creek, and affects the value of all the investments made by the corporation for the diversion of the waters of the stream. It therefore involves property rights worth millions.

The action is brought in the name of Mrs. Jane R. Clough, who sues ostensibly as a minority stockholder of the Washington and Murray Township Water Company to restrain the defendant from destroying her riparian rights. Plaintiff owns 200 shares of the Washington and Murray Township Company, which acquired and held certain riparian rights on Alameda Creek, which rights the Spring Valley Company has purchased.

It is claimed that this transfer was illegal, but it is understood that the suit has been instituted at the instance of land-owners in the vicinity, who claim that the diversion of the waters is inflicting great damage to the entire region. The suit is brought to compel the Spring Valley (Continued on Page 2.)

HUNTING THE CONVICTS.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 11.—Another of the convicts fleeing from the military prison at Fort Leavenworth was laid low near Quenado, forty miles southwest from the penitentiary, when Lawrence Lewis White, aged 20, was fatally wounded, receiving a bullet in the back while attempting to escape from the City Marshal of that place. This makes a total of thirteen prisoners captured since the outbreak on Wednesday last, leaving thirteen still at large. To date three of the notorious convicts have been killed and five, including the two who yesterday made a captive of Sheriff Cook of Topeka, and then escaped, have been wounded.

Lewis' death will make the fourth fatality.

A horde of armed men are today searching for the captors of Cook and it seems impossible that they can get away. Reinforced by the weapons taken from the Woster House and from the officers, they are well prepared, however, to make a fierce fight. They are desperate men and unless the wounds received yesterday prove serious, it is believed they will not be taken alive. Other posers are said to be pursuing two different gangs within fifty miles of the penitentiary and further captures are looked for during the day.

MACHINISTS GO TO WORK

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—Five hundred machinists employed by the Pullman Iron Works have returned to work after having been on strike for several months in an effort to obtain ten hours' pay for nine hours' work. It is understood that they return to their benches on a schedule of nine hours' pay for nine hours' work.

TO RESCUE OF THE SUN.

PEKING, Nov. 11.—In conformity with a notice which the Foreign Office sent to the legations, all the Chinese officials in the capital gathered today at the board of rites, to "rescue the sun," which was suffering from a partial eclipse. The rescue was accomplished by prostrations, the burning of incense and the beating of drums. A few foreigners, for the first time in history, were permitted to witness the ceremony.

ST. LOUIS TOO AMBITIOUS.

The managers of the big exposition the St. Louis people are getting up to celebrate the purchase of the Louisiana territory by Jefferson have a fund of $10,000,000 to start on, but their plans and preparations are on an extravagant and gigantic scale. There are several things which should admonish them to be more moderate in their estimates and expectations. Nobody expects the fair to pay its expenses, but the losses are likely to be much larger than anticipated.

All the large expositions held in this country have been financial failures. Indeed, they are being termed as such, judged from an ordinary business standpoint. There is invariably a big deficit at the close. The Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo has just quit $3,000,000 to the host. This huge debt it will have to be borne by the stockholders, bondholders and contractors. This of itself should caution St. Louis to go a little slow and keep in the middle of the road.

St. Louis is not nearly so large as Chicago. Not nearly so many railroads center there, and the territory immediately contiguous is not so thickly populated. These are all to be considered in estimating the probable attendance. It is quite evident that St. Louis can reasonably expect a much better attendance from the South than fell to Chicago, but this will be more than offset by losses in Eastern visitors. Besides, St. Louis is not the same center of interest to the world that Chicago was and is, nor has the event which its exposition will commemorate taken such a hold on the imagination of mankind as the discovery of the New World by Columbus, which was commemorated at Chicago.

Another thing, the Exposition habit has become so general in this country that the novelty has worn off. Since the Chicago show we have had the Midwinter Fair, the Trans-Mississippi Exposition at Omaha and the Buffalo Exposition, besides numerous minor exhibitions of a similar character. In Europe they have had world's fairs at Vienna, Amsterdam and Paris. All these will affect the drawing power of the St. Louis Exposition somewhat adversely because such exhibitions have become so common that they no longer attract attention and excite curiosity as formerly.

The vote in Sacramento illustrates the difficulty of getting the citizens to unite on any particular plan of procuring a municipal water supply. Three propositions were submitted and not one of them received the endorsement of a majority, the largest vote being given for the retention of the present filthy and discolored supply that the city draws from the Sacramento river.

Of the other two propositions, one was for a filtered supply from the river and the other for an artesian well supply. There are strong points in favor of both, but why neither received as many votes as was given for the dirty brack now served in Sacramento is something no fellow can find out. One would suppose that the vote to filter the water or obtain a new supply would have been unanimous, but Sacramento voters do queer things—just as voters do elsewhere.

Noblesse seems to have permanently deformed William J. Ryan as a political idol. The Republican majority of 12,000 in an '01 year when only minor offices were voted for is a decisive repudiation of his leadership that is emphasized by the heavy majority cast against his theories and candidates in his home county and city. There are still gurgles coming from the place where he went down, but the political waters have closed over him.

The increasing surplus in the National Treasury is being utilized as an argument in favor of reciprocal trade relations with Cuba that will permit sugar produced there to be admitted into the United States free of duty. It is needless to remark that this is a covert suggestion that the domestic sugar industry be destroyed to subsidize the interests of the Sugar Trust.

It was to be expected that the President would favor the re-negotiation of the Chinese exclusion law, but the assurance of the fact is cheering, nevertheless. He has always had a warm sympathy with workingmen and his attitude regarding Chinese immigration is only another proof of the fact.

People are wondering why Judge Advocate Lemly forgot to have Historian MacKay tell what he knows about the battle of San Juan. What he really knows would make an interesting commentary on what he wrote in his book about that memorable fight.

Ribaker Murphy says a good deal of the San Francisco charter will be played in ragtime during the next administration. It is to be hoped not. Such music will be discordant and not at all calculated to promote salutary reforms.

One of the oddest results about the San Francisco election is that all the newspapers are satisfied. They say so, anyhow, but there is an old story about everybody being satisfied that seems to fit this case.

It is expected that the Court of Inquiry will take the New York Sun burn off Admiral Schley.

ALGER AND ROOSEVELT.

"Oh, that mine enemy would write a book!" So said an ancient philosopher. General Alger has enough and some to spare. He seems to have gratified them all and increased his store, and that is about all he has accomplished by his book on the Spanish war. The work itself is a fat failure in a commercial and literary sense, however valuable it may be to the historical student. Nobody buys and nobody reads it, save, perhaps, the critics, newspaper writers and those who figure in its pages. Therefore the impression the public receives of Alger's book will be a reflected one, given out by hostile critics.

Macaulay said the Roundheads were victorious in the Parliamentary war, but that the Cavaliers wrote the history of that struggle; therefore posterity viewed the men and events of the great civil war through historical lenses devised by the royal party. This describes the experience of Alger's alleged history. While it cumbers book shelves and is becoming junk for the book stores, its contents are only known to the public by what Alger's enemies say of it. And it may be remarked that these constitute a formidable host; they have a wide circulation.

In Washington the book is under ban because it contains a criticism of President Roosevelt for signing the celebrated "Round Robin." This unconventional and somewhat insubordinate act caused a thrill of admiration to run through the country, for there was deep feeling throughout the nation about the blunders of the Commissary Department. The "Round Robin" verified some of General Miles' most damaging charges, and therefore infuriated Alger, Corbin, Egan and Ludington, who ruled things in the War Department. Alger also takes a shot at Simpson and the Navy Department which does not add to the popularity of his book at Washington.

When Alger wrote his book he had no idea that Roosevelt would succeed McKinley immediately after its publication. Now he has the newspapers and the Cabinet officers in set disapproval. The President, of course, treats the matter with contemptuous silence, but the people who are fond of him and who admire the frank courage and honest indignation which prompted him to sign the "Round Robin," which convicted the War Department bureaucrats of inefficiency if not worse, are pelting Alger with literary rotten eggs. Sherman's picture of Alger buying up colored delegates to national conventions conveys the popular idea of the latter as a Presidential aspirant. Now the history of Alger's administration of the War Department is the one rejected by his adversaries.

The death of Chief of Police Sullivan relieves Mayor-elect Schmitz of an embarrassment, but it is likely to create another. The present Police Commission will probably elect another Chief of Police, whose head is likely to be demanded.

A Bakersfield man claims to have discovered a way to increase the flow of oil wells by the use of hot air. The process may be a trifle new, but the use of hot air in the oil business has long been common.

There's a Row Here!

In our Overcoat Stock—we can't help it for there is rivalry, always rivalry, between everything, everywhere. Not even our new Overcoats escape.

A rich dark grey serge lined and velvet collared $10.00 coat tries to assume the lead, and wants to be the whole thing; but a rough dark mixed Kingstone Overcoat at $12.00 both friendly with a $15.00 English Topcoat, splutter; "you ain't so warm," and it's true, for they belong to the now so popular medium-weight class. Coverts and black chevrons and vicunas, all silk lined at $16.50, are continually quarrelling among themselves; while way down the line a $6.50 Oxford pipes; "Be stuck up, if you want to; but I've more friends than all of you"—and so he has. We suppose this contention will continue until the Coats are all sold to their respective admirers. It won't be long. Have you got yours?

JAPS MAKE STRONG DEFENSE

ALAMEDA, Nov. 11.—A crowd of boys caused a small sized riot at 5 o'clock last evening by throwing stones at the houses of the Japanese colony near Park street and Railroad avenue.

The Japs swarmed out of their dwellings like bees when the stones were thrown and gave chase to the boys. Officer Williams was called upon to settle matters and pitched battle seemed imminent. He searched the Japs for knives, as the boys claimed the little brown men were armed with all sorts of cutlery.

Officer Williams failed to find any knives on the Japanese and admonished the lads to cease annoying the Japs or he would be compelled to arrest them for disturbing the peace.

Inspector F. Mallott is having printed some large cardboard placards which he will tack up in the local trains and about the streets.

The placards tell of the new amended anti-expectorating ordinance as the old ordinance did not prohibit expectorating on the sidewalks, but limited offenses of this character to the public buildings and carriages.

The amended ordinance is intended to provide against the spread of contagious diseases, particularly consumption and in view of this fact the Board of Health has resolved that it must be observed.

SHE STANDS BY HER DOGS.

Mrs. Thompson Will Endeavor to Show Their Reputation for Peace and Quiet.

Mrs. Ida Thompson, residing on Eleventh street between Jefferson and Clay streets, was before Judge Smith this morning charged with maintaining a nuisance in the shape of a kennel of dogs. She has rendered night hideous for the neighbors by incessant howling.

C. U. Krytzer, the complaining witness, and others living in the neighborhood testified that the dogs howled at all hours of the night, making sleep impossible.

Mrs. Thompson cross-examined admirably, but could not shake their stories of the noise her pet canines are said to make by mournfully baying at the moon when there is one, and baying at nothing when there is not a moon.

The case was continued to permit Mrs. Thompson to send for two witnesses, who will testify, the defendant says, to the good character and conduct of her canines.

CLEVER PICKPOCKET

MAKES A CONFESSION.

Detective Denny Holland, besides capturing John William Wilson, the daring sneakthief who attempted to pick the pockets of a dozen women in a single day at the Free Market, has vouched a confession out of him. Wilson now announces his intention of pleading guilty in the Superior Court, trusting that the Judge before whom he will come will show him clemency.

Detective Holland searched the criminal records until he came across two photographs of Wilson among a gang of pickpockets operating in Louisville, Kentucky, while the Confederate rebellion was in progress in that place. Wilson was arrested there and was given twenty-four hours to leave the town. He was also arrested in New Orleans during the same year.

Wilson came here recently to pursue his calling. He is regarded by the police as one of the cleverest pickpockets that has operated on the Coast in recent months.

TEPPER TELLS HOW HE WAS BUNCOED.

Charles Miller, the man who is accused of inducing Charles Tepper, the Fruitvale saloon keeper, to cash the stub of a receipt of a Wells, Fargo & Co. money order, will be tried in the Police Court on November 13. He pleaded not guilty.

According to the story Tepper told a long story of the money he earned by picking fruit. He then drew the receipt from a chamber bag carried next his heart, and succeeded in getting Tepper to cash it.

When Tepper went to collect on the receipt at Wells, Fargo & Co.'s office in San Francisco, he was informed that he had been buncoed.

Tepper then swore out a complaint for Miller's arrest.

PLANS FOR NEW WATER COMPANY.

Eastern Capitalists are Talking of a New System for Oakland.

R. G. Hanford, who promoted the deal by which the Market Street Railway passed into the hands of a syndicate of Baltimore and New York capitalists, is now engaged in promoting a huge electric power and water project for San Francisco and the bay shore cities. The scheme is to generate power for San Francisco and provide storage capacity for water to be sold in San Jose, Alameda, Oakland, and contiguous towns. The details of the preliminary plans call for the construction of a huge storage reservoir on Isabel Creek, back of Mount Hamilton, which the promoter says will give a daily supply of 100,000 gallons of water and a water volume sufficient to generate 2000 horse power. This he says has mostly been contracted to San Francisco parties, supposedly to the Market Street Railway.

After the water has been utilized to generate power it is proposed to conduct it to a large distributing reservoir near Milpitas from whence pipe lines will carry it to various cities. The pole line to San Francisco will be 47 miles long, and the length of a water main from Milpitas to Oakland is estimated to be 25 miles, showing that Mr. Hanford has found a shorter route than the railway engineers. The storage capacity of the reservoir is placed at 15,000,000 gallons, which would afford a daily supply of 20,000,000 gallons for two years without depletion for loss by filtration. The total cost of the project is placed at $2,500,000. Here is what Mr. Hanford has to say about it:

"Within a year I hope to have our new water system in operation," said Mr. Hanford yesterday. "The surveying is progressing rapidly and the actual work of constructing the pipe lines will begin. I think by March, unless some unforeseen development delays us, I am confident that our water will be in use in all the cities around the bay before another year has passed."

"W. A. Cuts of the Cleveland banking firm of his name is associated with me in the investment, and other Eastern capitalists are interested. Considering the magnitude of the undertaking the outlay is comparatively small. I estimate that the whole system will not cost over $2,500,000. Already I have disposed of the contracts for electric power to be delivered in this city. These will pay a dividend on the cost of construction."

The phase of the scheme that I have just mentioned is extremely important. We will obtain our water from the reservoir in the Isabel valley, practically an inexhaustible supply. Streams from all the surrounding country empty into this valley. From the lake our pipe line will wind in and out through the hills to the head of Calaveras valley, near Milpitas. From that point we will drop the water down the valley. One of our power houses will be located there.

"The elevation at which we obtain the water in Isabel valley is so great that we can deliver it by gravity in San Jose, Oakland, Alameda, and Berkeley. Our electric plant will be located in the neighborhood of 16,000,000 gallons a day. This is almost enough to supply all the cities I have named. Our supply is not large enough to supply San Francisco.

"The water that I intend to devote to our purposes, now eventually finds its way into the mains of the Spring Valley company. In taking such an amount of water from its system will cripple it severely, I think; but, according to the laws of the State, we are well within our rights. I think I can promise the residents across the bay that they will be using pure water at a greatly reduced price before another year."

Several important elements appear to have been left out of the calculations given by Mr. Hanford. A pipe line from Milpitas of sufficient capacity to supply Oakland would cost in the neighborhood of $500,000. Should the water be brought to Oakland there is no distributing system by which it could be delivered to consumers. A system of street mains with local distributing reservoirs would cost fully $1,500,000 at the present prices of labor and materials.

Therefore, the suggestion that Oaklanders can get water from the new system by the first of March next lacks a trifle of being practical. Especially as work has not yet been commenced on the proposed dam.

The Calaveras basin held by Hanford and his associates comprises the better half of the great watershed, from which the Spring Valley Water Company draws the supply that is collected at Suisun and taken across the head of San Francisco bay to Belmont and thence to Crystal Springs reservoir. The Spring Valley Company handles 10,000,000 gallons daily from this source the year around. There are no storage reservoirs, and the supply represents a perennial flow. The Spring Valley Company is said to be contemplating the construction of an immense dam at the foot of Calaveras valley, so that the run-off of the whole drainage basin would be stored and fill the entire valley, and make the daily supply as high as 30,000,000 gallons.

But now come Hanford and his associates, taking the better half of the drainage area, and the Spring Valley Company, it appears, is likely to be left with only the daily flow of 10,000,000 gallons, which it cannot increase, but which, on the other hand, the newcomers are precluded from diminishing. Experience in other cases of juxtaposition of water rights would indicate that the two companies may have a battle royal before the matter is finally settled. Hanford, however, claims to have perfected legal title to his rights, while the Spring Valley Company is known to have neglected the construction of works which might have given it the right to the surplus water.

MENDENHALL BRINGS

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

Wm. M. Mendenhall and wife, Mary A. Mendenhall, have brought suit against J. T. Summers, W. H. Coward and M. L. T. Coward, proprietors of Mendenhall Springs, located at the foot of Mt. Diablo, for back rent to the amount of $90 and $350 damages, which the plaintiffs allege is due owing to the fact that the defendants failed to take proper care of eight cows belonging to plaintiffs. G. W. Langan is attorney for plaintiffs.

SERVICE MEN MAKE SOME SUGGESTIONS.

The following report has been made to Camp Col. Liscum, S. L. of S. W., by a committee consisting of Thomas Thompson, Chairman; Louis R. Jones, secretary, and others:

"To the officers and members of Camp Col. Liscum, No. 15, S. M. of S. W. Gentlemen:

"Your committee appointed at the last stated meeting to draw up suitable resolutions regarding the fitting out and repairing of the United States transports and if possible the building of new war ships at the Mare Island navy yards, California, to be presented to the Senators and Representatives in Congress from the State of California, beg leave to submit the following:

"Whereas, The laws of the United States governing the employing of labor at the navy yard of the United States give preference to the ex-soldiers of the Civil and Spanish-American War, and ex-soldiers of the United States Army; and

"Whereas, The work is now being done by private contractors, the aforesaid soldiers are being deprived of the rights given them by law, and the machines and material at the navy yards are going to waste and ruin for lack of use; therefore be it

"Resolved, That we, the Service Men of the Spanish War, do urge our Senators and Representatives of the State of California that they do all within their power to have transports fitted out and war ships built by the Government of the United States at the Mare Island, Mare Island, California; be it further

TRANSIT COMPANY AT FAULT.

Power House Explosion Was the Result of a Niggardly Policy.

The Oakland Transit Company is busy locking the stable door after the horse has been stolen. It has a force of men working night and day repairing the damage caused by the recent explosion at the Elmhurst power house. Had as much diligence been shown before the disaster would in all probability never have occurred.

The boilers from the Alameda power house are rapidly being set in position, and will probably be ready for firing up in two weeks. One of the three boilers of the original battery is now being used to run a booster used as an auxiliary to the electric current transmitted from the Piedmont power house. The boilers being set up have a slightly larger capacity than the old ones.

Only one of the boilers exploded. One of them was practically uninjured, while another can be put in shape by tightening the bolts and putting in new tubes. It will be put in condition and set up as an auxiliary.

A large engine has already been set up to augment the power which has heretofore been sufficient.

All these changes are significant as showing how the Elmhurst power plant was strained to its utmost prior to the explosion. It is officially stated that the boilers were ordinarily kept under a pressure of 120 pounds. This is a high pressure for boilers tested to carry only 125 pounds, but it is currently stated by those with local knowledge of the workings of the plant that pressure frequently ran up much higher—in fact, was allowed to go right up to the danger line. On week days only two boilers were fired, while on Sundays and holidays all three were used.

In order to save fuel, the boilers were overworked and strained to their utmost.

Another characteristic of the Transit Company was the failure to take out insurance on the plant. Only persons familiar with the subject understand the neglect. When insurance on machinery plants is taken, a competent mechanical engineer is required to inspect it once a month. If the recommendations are not followed the policy is cancelled at once. An action of this kind would be notice that the plant was not being properly run, and in case of such an accident as occurred would make an ugly showing in a damage suit.

Some people are disposed to believe that the failure to insure was a desire to escape the monthly inspection, which, of course, would have interfered with making two boilers do the work of three.
